

THE BLACK CAT July 1896

The Black Cat (1895-1922) was a monthly literary magazine, publishing original short stories, often about uncanny or fantastical topics. Many writers were largely unknown, but some famous authors also wrote original material for this magazine.

This is the tenth issue, offering 5 more stories:

"On the last trail", by H. W. Phillips and Rupert Hughes: witness the final showdown between the marshall and his friend

"A message from where ?", by L. Francis Bishop: a boy's imagination is kindled by a mysterious beautiful woman in an old picture

"The man with the box", by George W. Tripp: find out happens when you don't heed the warning and press the "snake" button

"What the moon saw", by Isabelle Meredith: a careless young man finds out why one should not disturb the rest of the dead

"In Miss Polly's pew", by Ellen Frizzell Wycoff: it is never too late to claim your true love

Read by Rita Boutros; Greg Giordano; Mike Manolakes; Jean Claire; Julie Burks . Total running time: 1:57:40
